Kilimandjaro Voie Marangu — Trek Classique de 5 jours vers le Sommet

EDITORIAL OVERVIEW

Experience Overview

The Marangu Route is the classic gateway to Uhuru Peak, offering a perfect balance of challenge and comfort. Known affectionately as the "Coca-Cola Route" for its relative accessibility, it's the only trail providing permanent mountain hut accommodation — no tents required. Your five-day ascent begins at Marangu Gate (1,840m) and winds through four distinct ecological zones: lush montane rainforest alive with Colobus monkeys, heather moorland dotted with giant lobelias, an alpine desert of surreal volcanic scree, and finally the arctic summit zone where equatorial glaciers glint in the pre-dawn light. The push to Uhuru Peak (5,895m) begins at midnight. Guided by your expert mountain team under a blanket of stars, each step takes you closer to the Roof of Africa. At sunrise, the views from the crater rim stretch across the curvature of the Earth — a moment of triumph that will stay with you forever. All treks include a highly experienced KINAPA-licensed lead guide, assistant guides, porters, a camp chef, and daily health monitoring with pulse oximetry.
